TWENTY-NINTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Dear Parishioners and Friends,

Just this morning, as I write this, I was in attendance at our monthly Harvard Chaplains meeting, where the matter of the attacks in Israel and ensuing student responses on campus were the main agenda item. The head of Hillel and the head Muslim chaplain both spoke at length, in what was one of the most touching moments of solidarity I've witnessed as a Harvard chaplain. All of us together mourned the loss of innocent life and grieved for the Jewish students on campus, many of whom are directly connected to the lives recently lost. We also had the opportunity to hear about the Imam's utter bewilderment over the release of the so-called Palestinian Solidarity Committee's "joint statement," which called Israel "entirely responsible" for the Hamas attack. The latter is what provoked widespread criticism and a firestorm of media attention on Harvard these past two weeks.

Given that so many Muslim student groups signed on to the statement, I think it's important for everyone to hear that the head Muslim chaplain of Harvard not only never approved of the statement, but didn't even know about it until after it was released. In fact, he wasn't even aware of the existence of some of the Muslim student groups who signed it. (Unlike our Catholic student groups, the Muslim student groups are more independent of one another.) Unfortunately, it seems that some of the groups and leaders signed it in haste without even reading it. And so a widespread movement toward restitution and reconciliation has begun at the grassroots level, which I was privileged to witness even in that small meeting of Harvard Chaplains.

Unfortunately this will not be heard amid the media frenzy, where everyone feels pressured to "take a side." The Church's robust social teaching calls us to solidarity. And true solidarity does not mean pitting ourselves against one group of people, even when they are in the wrong. Sin exists in all of our hearts, and so none of us is ever completely free of moral guilt. Yet social media thrives on conflict, thus further dividing us. This one issue on campus is a microcosm of our broader culture in how we tend to deal with conflict.

And so I depart from the usual parish news update for this week in order to highlight the Church's profound teaching on solidarity and our solemn duty to be instruments of healing and unity in all facets of life. As I say often, please avoid social media, and take what you hear on the news with a grain of salt. Instead, offer prayers and penance for peace, and engage in real-life conversations with people. Solidarity, in the words of Pope John Paul II, "is not a feeling of vague compassion or shallow distress at the misfortunes of so many people... On the contrary, it is a firm and persevering determination to commit oneself to the common good; that is to say, to the good of all and of each individual, because we are all really responsible for all."

Yours in Christ, Fr. Patrick

CHECK OUT WHAT'S HAPPENING AT ST. PAUL'S

FOOD PANTRY

The food pantry has been blessed with an abundance of fresh produce over the past few months, thanks to the farms that donate to our food rescue partners. Everyone has been leaving with full bags and there has usually been some left to fill the free fridge across the street. Availability of pantry items has been somewhat variable. We need cold cereal, oatmeal (canisters and flavored instant), granola bars and cereal bars, fruit cups, quarts of shelf stable milk (dairy as well as almond, oat, or other non-dairy varieties), rice, coffee, flavored or herbal tea, and soup. We have more than enough pasta, pasta sauce, macaroni and cheese, canned beans, and canned tomatoes. As a reminder, we give each guest a complete package so we are requesting standard size packages as opposed to large ones (60 granola bars, a giant canister of coffee, etc.).

MASS INTENTIONS AT ST. PAUL'S

Mass Intentions for daily and weekend Masses are being accepted. Masses may be offered to remember those who have died, for those who are ill, as well as in thanksgiving for a birthday, anniversary or for a special intention. Please contact Nancy in the Parish Office during the week for details and to reserve a particular Mass.

SANCTUARY LAMP

The Sanctuary Lamp, which burns for eight days and nights at the tabernacle, symbolizes the presence of Christ and marks the boundaries of holy space in the Church. If you are interested in learning how to donate a Sanctuary Lamp, contact Nancy at 617.491-8400 ext. 303.

MEDITATIONS BEFORE MASS

The Guardini reading group is currently reading The Lord. If you are interested, please join us at 10:30am on Sundays in the Bishop Boles Conference for about twenty minutes.

MONDAY PRAYER GROUP

The group meets on Mondays, starting at 1:00pm, by telephone. The number to call at 1 pm is 978-990-5000, and the number to enter when prompted is 701118. We read and discuss the Scripture readings of the day, then offer prayers for one another.
